GROWING OUR COMPREHENSION STRATEGIES

In response to our data collection and our observations, teachers will incorporate strategies to help students:

- connect, question, infer
- listen then predict
- respond more thoughtfully and concisely to stories/text through written, oral, and artistic expression

BUILDING CONFIDENCE RESPONDING AND COMMUNICATING OUR THINKING

When we read, or listen to, a story, poem, literature, or text:

- we read/listen carefully
- we make educated predictions and guesses
- we make connections to our background knowledge
- we ask questions to check our understanding
- we can make mistakes and learn from them
- we try our best!
